

2022 Cattle Raisers Convention & Expo
Graduate Student Research Poster Showcase
March 26, 2022

TSCRA invites graduate students at Texas and Oklahoma universities to present their research at the 2022 Cattle Raisers Convention & Expo. Students will have the opportunity to present their research to industry leaders and TSCRA members and affiliates. Graduate students will receive a complimentary registration to attend the Cattle Raisers Convention Expo and School for Successful Ranching.

Criteria:

1. Student's research must be related to the beef industry (ruminant nutrition, meat and quality assurance, agriculture communications, agriculture policy, etc.) or grazing resource or land management practices as it relates to conservation for livestock;
2. Students must be a registered graduate student at a Texas or Oklahoma university;
3. Students are expected to showcase their posters from 8 a.m. – 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. on March 26, 2022, at the Fort Worth Convention Center;
4. If selected, students understand that they will be responsible for their own accommodations and transportation to the 2022 Cattle Raisers Convention & Expo;
5. Students will be responsible for printing and providing their own poster, while TSCRA will provide a table and chair;
6. One audience selected student will be invited to speak for 20 minutes in the TSCRA Learning Lounge regarding their research project from 3:40 – 4:00 p.m. on Saturday, March 26.
